

PROJECT SUMMARY

Interior and exterior modifications to an existing dealership including a facade remodel, extending roof parapet, reinforcing structural attachments, introducing soffit lighting and factory finished ACM paneling, relocating electrical point of connection, furring out perimeter 22-ft CMU walls with gypsum board and installation of pre-finished trapezium metal wall panels. Conversion of an existing center “oval” office to a traditional square design, updating the showroom floor from ceramic to carpet, re-painting walls/doors to keep up with product identification, landscaping and adding pervious pavers were all part of the scope as well.

Carlson Porsche

INDUSTRY: DEALERSHIP

Interior and exterior modifications to an existing dealership

LOCATION: Redwood City
OWNER: Carlson Porsche
ARCHITECT: Proto, Inc.

Related Information

AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

- Automotive

OFFICE:

- Redwood City

“It was no easy task to move our entire operation from Palo Alto—where we had been headquartered for over 35 years, to Redwood City, but your team worked with us every step of the way and turned our dream into a reality.”

Charlie Burton, President